WE NOMINATE

Robert Slocum Garber, one of the distinguished medical administrators along the Atlantic Seaboard, who in September, 1955, is entering upon his fourth year as Superintendent of the New Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute. Under the direction of this 43-year old native of Homestead, Pa., the erstwhile "State Village at Skillman," maintained for epileptics from its foundation in 1898 until the Fall of 1952, has cast off its atmosphere of defeatism and has become a nationally recognized rehabilitation center, holding forth hope for hundreds upon hundreds of "human problems" by seeking to substitute vigor, optimism, and new points of view for the grinding routine of an institutional way of life which in years gone by apparently resisted progress in any and all forms.

Since 1952—on the strength of a survey issued by the Board of Control of the State's Department of Institutions and Agencies—there has been a marked change in the Institute's patient-population. The establishment of Convulsive Disorder Clinics in different parts of the State dropped the admission of epileptics from approximately 250 cases annually to 3-to-date this year, a phenomenal decline that has permitted Garber and his associates to place new stress on juvenile psychiatry and more recently to open a central unit for alcoholics. The significance of this shift-in-emphasis is reflected in next Wednesday's Institute-sponsored conference that will be dedicated to the problems of the emotionally disturbed youngster.

In his three square-mile balliwick, dotted with some 200 buildings and serviced by its own fire department, school and laundry, Garber has accomplished wonders.

There is, for instance, "Erg Therapy," the Institute's name for the program directed by trained technicians who supervise the efforts of patients capable of productive work. Prior to the 1952 reorganization, 173 were employed, compared to a work-force of over 500 now putting in an average of 7,500 man-days per month. The staffs charged with Occupational and Recreational Therapy and Psychiatric Social Service continue to function more and more effectively, as does the new Children's Unit that has been expanded to accommodate 108 youngsters and already has a waiting-list of some 200 cases under 14 years of age.

Garber, a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College and Philadelphia's Jefferson Medical College, first assumed New Jersey responsibilities as a resident physician in Trenton State Hospital. Following World War II, when he rose rapidly to the rank of lieutenant colonel and "caught" duty with hospital units in Africa and Italy, he rejoined the State Hospital's medical staff, serving successively as Physician-in-Charge of the Male Division, Assistant Clinical Director, Clinical Director and finally Assistant Medical Director. His present affiliations, in spite of the 24-hour pressures of his post, include the Jefferson Medical College, Cooper Hospital, Camden, N. J., and Mercer Hospital in Trenton.

For constantly trying to better the services and facilities which serve the people and communities of his adopted state; for dispersing the air of "end-of-the-road stagnation" for patients and their families; for endowing many with the belief that the future is also for them; he is Town Topics' nominee for

laws of New Jersey stipulate that a municipal office-holder must reside in the municipality in which he serves. Accordingly, it was with more than passing interest this week that a recent property transfer was greeted in the Princeton community.

Township Mayor John H. Wallace, Jr. and Mrs. Wallace have bought the Henderson Talbot residence at 186 Library Place, in the heart of the borough's residential district. Mnyor Wallace is a candidate for re-election in the township in November, and a return to office will mean a new three-year term.

"Mrs. Wallace and I have no foreseeable plans that involve leaving the township," Mayor Wallace told Town Topics. "I plan to be a candidate 'as announced, and we will continue to live in our present home."

The house they have purchased on Library Place is now rented, the mayor added. Director of Princeton University's Forrestal
Research Center, Mayor Wallace and his family have lived for many years on the North Road in the township. He is in his sixth year on the municipality's governing body and his first as its mayor.

More Expansion

Near - complete negotiations for the purchase of "a sizeable amount" of Walker-Gordon property along U. S. 1 by the Food Machinery & Chemical Corp. of New York City were reported to TOWN TOPICS
this week by several sources.
They added that Food Machinery, a national firm with widespread facilities, plans to build a large research laboratory on one or both sides of Plainsboro Road at the main highway, where the once-noted Walker-Gordon Gatehouse will be razed.

A check with State offices in Trenton revealed that Food Machinery has applied successfully for the establishment of a laboratory in Plainsboro Township and has received approval from New Jersey for the transfer of property from Walker-Gordon. Also, it was learned that State geologists have guaranteed an adequate water supply, a vital requirement for the research center's operation.

TOWN TOPICS' sources gave a hint as to the eventual size of the laboratory with the report that long-range plans call for the employment of some 200 persons. They said construction will be handled by the H. K.
Ferguson Co. of New York, builders of other laboratories in this area.

new zoning ordinance turned into a real, democratic town drama, though it was a laborious session of three hours plus in the Valley Road School auditorium.

The ordinance will come up for public discussion at least twice again, but nearly 100 Township residents appeared Tuesday to protest, applaud or listen to discussion of the remarkable zoning code now in the hands of the Township Planning Board. More than two dozens speakers marched to the microphone at the front of the hall to take part. The planning board heard everything from well-perceived corrections to the news that the far-a-future east-west road will be "an elevated highway."

The camps were clearly but not bitterly separated. In addition, one large group of speakers told a story of potential hardship which might result from the increase of lot sizes in the ordinance, and another asked for more restrictive requirements.

There were questions of the legality of ordering sizes of bedrooms and further, of checking on bedroom occupancy. A verbal weakness was detected in side lot regulations.

To many questions, planning board consultant Charles K. Agle was able to supply an answer from the "fine print" of the ordinance itself. In an unusually fine display of knowledge which lies behind modern zoning, he showed many a questioner that the proposed Township code allows greater freedom in many respects and helpful restrictions in "problem situations."

There was a question of what size house and lot "pays for itself"

taxwise, and the answer came that this cannot be set down in zoning legislation. On the other hand, Planning Board chairman Jean Labatut answered the charge the large lot requirements will prohibit Princeton children from living here by recording the fact that for every such person, there will be 1,000 Trenton, New Brunswick, or elsewhere applicants for space in the Township, which is now 85% undeveloped.

Charles Parker of Rosedale Nurseries pointed out that under the proposed code, picket fences would be treated as buildings, requiring permits and lot "set-backs." Along with other points, his remarks were referred for further study, something which is likely to cause extensive delay in final processing of the new code.

Gulicks Protest. Two "special interest" groups played an important part in the hearing. The Gulick family, introduced by an attorney and with five speakers and a telegram, showed the situation which will affect the 163-year-old Gulick Farm of 200 acres which has never been "developed."

One after another, members of the family protested that changing lot requirements from three-quarters of an acre to one and a half acres constituted a loss of value to their property. They pointed to the neighboring Shady

For Emergencies Only

As of noon Friday, September 23, a new telephone emergency reporting system will go into effect in the Borough of Princeton. It will replace the old Gamewell fire alarm system.

Clerk Robert F. Mooney explained this week that the new system will be used for reporting fires, needs for police or any other emergencies — but not for any purpose other than emergencies. To report them, residents are asked to pick up the phone in any street box, which will be connected directly with the police desk at Borough Hall, and then give the nature of the emergency and the precise location.

New telephones will be located at the same intersections as the old alarm boxes, plus four new sites. They are: Bayard Lane at Leigh Avenue, Elm Road at Cleveland Lane, Nassau Street at Snowden Lane and Leavitt Lane at Fisher Avenue. (For further details, see page 8.)

Brook development with its three-quarter acre lots.

While arguments that the new zoning represents a step which will inevitably increase all Princeton land values, and that it is based on geological requirements were advanced, many speakers were of the belief that the zoning will work against the middle income earner and young persons making a start.

On another side, residents of Quaker Road spoke sharply against building in flood-endangered areas and on small lots, apparently still incensed by as yet unrealized efforts to build on the Stony Brook side of Quaker Road.

Most of the exceptionally strong new points of the code were ignored in the debate, though many speakers rose to compliment the board and its consultant on the proposed legislation.

Revisions will be made on the basis of the hearing, but there was little doubt that the majority of listeners agreed with Kenneth Kassler, architect and new chairman of the Borough's board of zoning adjustment, when he spoke as a Township resident and termed the new code sound in principle, in advance of most zoning and "in keeping with what we need to have. The requirements are high, but they represent the whole welfare of the whole community," he declared.

Round to Potts. A two-and-a-half hour skirmish before Federal Judge Phillip Forman in Trenton appeared to have a net effect of improving the position of Theodore R. Potts, Princeton developer whose giant Shopping Center is currently at sea in troubled financial waters.

Monday's session was scheduled as a creditors' hearing on the Clearview Associates reorganization plan for the Center, but more than an hour was spent in coaxing from Mr. Potts and his attorney Max L. Rosenstein the actual source of the $515,000 new capital promised for the reorganization. The information elicited was this: Mr. Potts plans to furnish $100,000; his wife will furnish $75,000, and "two close sources," "friends," will furnish amounts of $200,000 and $140,000 to complete the sum.

Even this limited information appeared to weigh against the outright assertions by Atwood Wolf, attorney for Property Credit Corporation, the harassing second mortgage; that Mr. Potts would not actually produce the required sum as promised in the plan.

A gander once was jealous of his mate, the goose, who merely sat at home eating the food the gander flew far and wide in search of. So it happened that the goose and the gander agreed to change places, and the gander sat at home while the goose sought out the "bacon". Now after a time, the gander longed to roam freely about the heavens once again. But, alas, he had eaten so much he could fly no more. Which all goes to prove that what's good for the goose, isn't necessarily good for the gander.

And it's true. Take sport shirts, for instance. If your wrists are showing or your hands aren't showing—your sport shirt isn't good for the "gander". Of course, we have sport shirts that are always good for the "gander"—Arrow sport shirts tailored to fit in exact sleeve lengths.

Whether you're tall and thin, short and plump, or somewhere in-between—you can always get your exact sleeve length in these wonderful Arrow sport shirts. Drive-In Cleaners. Next time it's your turn for car-pooling, take along a bundle of laundry or cleaning and after you've emptied the pool, drop off your bundle at Carnegie Cleaners' new drive-in on Witherspoon Street. The new location (337 Witherspoon, just above Valley Road School) is convenient for mothers leaving children at school; the new hours (from 7 a.m.) are convenient for people who work; the new drive-in idea is convenient for everyone.

At Carnegie's new location, there is plenty of parking room, and the drive-in idea means that you don't even have to get out of your car. Honk your horn and the attendant will pick up your bundle. Princeton hasn't had an establishment like this before—stop by this Friday, when Carnegie opens, and try it out.

The new drive-in will offer all the dry-cleaning and laundry services that Carnegie has always offered. There will also be a complete home service that cleans rugs, drapes, upholstery and mattresses.

Fall Blaze. The blazer, that entrance requirement for every school girl, makes its appearance in academic row at Mary Gill's, 230 Nassau. Blazers are corduroy, in black, moose or champagne. They are crested or plain. Some are in men's wear charcoal, others are good womanly navy blue flannel with white piping. There is a white one and a maple-leaf red. Prices from $14.95.

Bermuda shorts are dyed to mix or match with the blazers, and like them, they come in flannels, corduroys and wools. For the venturesome, there is the skinny pant—a tapered slack that stops at the ankle-bone. Mary Gill has it in plaids. Skirts are hung from a new rack, moved in from the back porch. They are checked, solid or tartan, one a good red kilt that's cut to skirt length.

Costume suits wear an important afternoon look. One, in black wool, has a short-sleeved princess dress (optional belt goes along) and a jacket lined with white taffeta and closed with a white lamb collar. It's $35. Another suit has a black wool, three-quarter sleeved dress with black and white tweed jacket lined with red. The collar is black velvet and the price tag $53.95.

For cocktails, Mary Gill has a sari cloth dress in red (emerald royal) nylon with a weep gold border; a black jersey sheath whose short sleeves are banded with black fox; a black velvet with high collar and three-quarter sleeves; a full-skirted husky of a dress in red (green) lace with scalloped neck.

Suits from $39.95 are plaids or tweeds. A pleasant dark plaid, refreshing change from Black Watch, is the Cockburn (pronounced "Coburn"), a dark green with lines of yellow, red and white. There are mauve tweeds, and a more formal suit in charcoal men's wear flannel piped with black scoutlike braid.

Silver and Crystal... always a luminous combination, have been used together in a new group of occasional pieces at the Town Shop, 67 Palmer Square West. The crystal is white and clear, without ornamentation except for a one-inch band of brushed silver around the top edge.

small cocktail pitcher, salt and pepper, set of cigarette urn and small ashtray, and a round bowl. Prices are reasonable, in case you are besieged and impoverished by wedding invitations. A small vase, for example, is $3.50, the two-piece cigarette urn set is $6.

Crystal vases come to the shop from Sweden and England. There is a Swedish one in heavy frosted glass with carved birds embedded in its surface. Another smaller one from Sweden is shaped like a small urn. The English pitchers are clear and functionally designed with deeply pinched lips.

Cooks who like a French cuisine will like some new French porcelain evenware that has been decorated—you might almost say illustrated—with colored vegetables. The turnip is the essence of that lowly root, the artichoke has been detailed to the last leaf, the peas seem about to burst from their pods. The set includes soup plates in three sizes, a tray, a fat onion pot, soup tureens with covers and casseroles whose straight sides have a pleated look.

mitments from the two "friends," as well as a statement of Mr. Potts' own financial position. This was promised to him by this coming Monday and at 2 p. m. still another hearing will take place in the federal court chambers.

Mr. Rosenstein related to the court in the process of the questioning about the sources that Mr. Potts had told him that his net worth, completely exclusive of the three-quarter million dollars plus he has invested in the Shopping Center, is $500,000.

As explained by Mr. Rosenstein, the new $515,000 capital will have to be considered as an additional investment in the Center by Mr. Potts, since the loans from the two "friends" will be personal and not in return for Clearview stock. A host of points shot through the court, kept under control chiefly by Judge Forman's astute and at times amusing handling. Not the least of these was, however, the question of whether annual income, despite the new capital, will match monthly expenses.

Further Delay Protested. Mr. Wolf directed his attack on the opening round to the problem of delay, which jeopardizes Property Credit's investment further, and that of all other parties, including Mr. Potts, as Judge Forman added.

Various details of the reorganization came under fire during the proceedings, and Morris J. Ravin, attorney for a creditors' committee representing some

Calypso Medicine

Little six-year-old Bruce Maxwell, seriously ill at Princeton Hospital, got a better-than-medicine jolt this week from an unexpected source. Dick Talbot, one of the noted calypso-playing Talbot brothers, made a special trip from New York City to serenade the youngster at the hospital.

Bruce, who met the musician and learned to love his calypso melodies while vacationing with his mother, Mrs. Chester Maxwell, 303 Cuyler Road, in Bermuda, was thrilled by the personalized performance. The six-year-old's somewhat puzzling favorite song: "Bachelin Life."

$37,000 of the outstanding general debts, presented the objects of his group. Mr. Ravin pointed out that the $75,000 allotted to the general creditors under the plan represents an 18% to 20% payment on their claims. He sought a limit to claims and this was acceded by Mr. Rosenstein.

Mr. Potts' attorney caused an appreciable start in the audience when he said that if Clearview bought back creditors' Class C stock at 15% of value, it would be "in the nature of a gift." He quickly amended this to say that 15% addition to the 20% payment under reorganization would be considerably better than what would be expected through liquidation.

Subsequent arguments dealt with matters such as stock voting rights, which appear to be highly unusual under the plan. Granting two major "ifs," approval by two-thirds of the creditors, as well as Judge Forman, it appears that Mr. Potts' reorganization scheme may come to pass on October 17, just three days before the end of the grace period on a $50,000 first mortgage payment to Travelers Insurance Co.

Post Open. Two residents of Princeton are under consideration for the vacancy on the County Board of Freeholders created by the death in June of Edward A. Thorne. They are Edmund S. DeLong, Director of Public Relations at Princeton University, and Dr. Robert Franco, assistant professor in the Department of Economics. The latter is president of the Princeton Democratic Club.

The County Democratic Committee has until the 29th of this month to place a name on the ballot. Also under consideration is Martin Hillman, County Rent Control Director, but because the six present freeholders are all residents of Trenton, as is Mr. Hillman, sentiment is said to favor a "Princetonian to succeed a Princetonian."

Township Session Quiet. In its temporarily intimate meeting room, the Township dispatched unspectacular business in a matter of 30 minutes Monday evening. Chief developments:

The committee by 5-0 accepted a Planning Board recommendation to reduce the required right of way for the "east-west road" to 70 feet. In some parts, the right of way had been an unusual 90 feet and the move was a routine —Continued on Page 6

News of the Theatres

McCARTER THEATRE

Tickets continue on sale for "A Room Full of Roses," McCarter's opening attraction and one that appears to be of exceptional interest. The important premiere tryout here is in advance of a Broadway bow under the banners of Guthrie McClintic and Stanley Gilkey.

Mail orders are still being taken (approximately half the seats were gone as of Tuesday), and ducats for the Friday evening and Saturday matinee and evening (September 23-24) performances may be obtained at the McCarter box office from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Mondays through Fridays, and at the University Store and the Bamberger's Service Desk.

The star of the show will be Patricia Neal, an actress who has achieved a high reputation via only two Broadway shows: Lillian Hellman's "Another Part of the Forest" and the revival in 1952 of "The Children's Hour." She has gained more fame in numerous Hollywood performances, including "The Hasty Heart," "John Loves Mary," "Diplomatic Courier" and many others.

"Roses" will find Miss Neal in her first role of a mother, a part which she has recently assumed in real life. The Kentucky-horn star is married to Roald Dahl, an Englishman who writes for The New Yorker and had Jessica Tandy, Hume Cronyn and Dorothy Stickney as the cast for his first play, "The Honies," which failed to survive on Broadway.

Miss Neal flew from England with her 4-month-old daughter Olivia in order to work under Mr. McClintic's direction. Mr. Dahl is expected here for the Princeton opening.

Other members of the cast will include Russ Conway, Alice Frost, Warren Berlinger, and Betty Lou Keim, who has scored as a moppet on the stage, most recently in "The Remarkable Mr. Penny packer." Donald Oenslager, one of Broadway's most noted designers, has completed the sets.

The story concerns a single impulsive gesture by Miss Neal, which becomes the storm center of international scandal and loses her the custody of her daughter. The production will be the 94th or 95th, depending on your sources, by Mr. McClintic, but a record in any case.

BUSKINS AND SOCKS

With a tidy sum in the neighborhood of $250 in the kitty (a record amount) the youthful dramatic group Buskins and Socks is now figuring out its role for the year ahead. "Ten Little Indians" proved the most popular of the group's three summer shows, even drawing 15 on a hurricane night.

Despite thoughts of a show at Christmas time, the group probably won't offer a production during the coming year. For one thing, Princeton High School expects to stage a musical and a senior play. Much of the B&S membership includes PHS seniors, sophomores, as well as June graduates who won't be available.

One plan being worked out would call for a program of workshops during the year, in play reading, make-up, costuming and directing. Details remain to be finalized.

action to make the width consistent.

A desultory discussion of the possible Township ordinance requiring fences around swimming pools found seven impromptu speakers on hand, none of them there with prior purpose. Their opinions split down the line of "further invasion of private rights" vs. "protection against an attractive nuisance."

Preliminary steps toward the acceptance of Shady Brook Lane and Gulick and Marion Roads as Township streets were made. They were termed up to municipal specifications by Engineer Edward B. Van Note.

Committeeman High D. Wise introduced a resolution of sympathy for the wife of the late Patrolman Billie D. Ellis, one of thanks for the ten first aid and rescue squads from neighboring communities, and a commendation for the fine efforts of all Township police force members, in connection with the recent Millstone River drowning tragedies.

Borough Report. Two members of the Borough Planning Board (Harry A. Farr, 2d and George R. Myers) and two Borough Councilmen (Alfred E. Sorenson and Charles J. Rocknak) were named this week to confer with property owners in the Vandeventer-Moore Street block along Nassau on the subject of onstreet parking. The matter will be given further consideration, after having been broached by the property owners in August.

Gift From Manila Aids Fund

Contributions to the Billie D. Ellis Fund increased by another $500 last week, and now stand at $4,679.78. Among the gifts received were one of $6.81, proceeds of a play given by five Mercer Road children, and a check sent from Manila in the Philippines by a former Princeton resident who read of the fund in TOWN TOPICS.

Plans have been announced for a benefit softball game to be played Sunday at 2 on the Marquand Park diamond. Complete details are on page 12. Contributions are still welcome at TOWN TOPICS, Post Office Box 664; its 4 Mercer Street office, or at Hinkson's, 74 Nassau Street. Checks should be made out to the Billie D. Ellis Fund, which has been established in the First National Bank.

At its Tuesday night meeting, one of unusually short duration, council also extended the life of the Alexander Street veterans housing for another year; planned to look further into the possibility of moving the headquarters of the Hook and Ladder Company from Witherspoon Street to borough-owned land on North Harrison Street; and introduced an ordinance providing for a fine up to $200 and/or 30 days in jail for malicious use of its new telephone alarm system (see page 8.)

Court Pace Slackens. After an unusually busy calendar the previous week, Township Magistrate Louis Gerber this week heard only two cases. He sentenced Elijah Jones, 44, of 329 Witherspoon Street, to a six-month term in the County Workhouse for beating his wife, Dorothy, and leaving a five-stitch cut above one of her eyes, and he fined George May, River Road, Kingston, $55, and gave him a three-month suspended sentence after the defendant pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing "numbers game" slips.

In Borough court, Magistrate Paul Chesebro also was treated to a light week, devoting his entire attention to the fining of three out-of-town speeders and three local offenders. One case involving two teenagers, Payson Trendenick, 343 Snowden Lane, and John C. Sailey, Village Road, Dutch Neck, who were repeat offenders, resulted in a $20 fine and six-month license revocation for the former and $25 fine and nine-month license revocation for the latter. Thomas G. Wilson, 14 Pine Street, was fined $25 for speeding.

Princeton Year 210. Priced by the freshman engineers and then the main body of the entering 787-member Class of 1959, the Princeton University community is assembling itself this weekend in preparation for the 210th academic year of the "College of New Jersey."

A convocation address by President Harold W. Dodds this Sunday in the Chapel will formally open the year, and classes will start at 7:40 a.m. on Monday.

The highest undergraduate enrollment since the postwar peaks will be on hand, numbering 2,893. In addition 590 students will be in attendance at the Graduate College. The teaching faculty will number 526 scholars, including 60 part-time assistants in instruction. Princeton's research force will number 226.

Student aid in the form of scholarships, employment and loans has been awarded to more than 1,000 undergraduates, some 35%. The aid amounts to $850,690, a record total for the University.

Miss Fine's Enrolls 285. Miss Fine's School, opened its doors for a new academic year Tuesday, a record enrollment of 285 students and 11 new faculty members. Last year, registration at the start of the fall semester stood at 272.

Additions to the teaching staff include Miss Rebecca Howell, English, social studies and geography; Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson, kindergarten assistant; Miss Bettie Lawrence, history and government; Miss Eleanor Collins, general science and biology; Mrs. Ann Gordon, English; Miss Katharine Sortor, English and social studies, and Miss Nancy Campbell, music, glee club and the history of music.

Also, Mrs. Ann Baird, art and art history; Mrs. Elizabeth Fine, Latin; Mrs. Mary Louise Barton, school nurse, and The Rev. Ernest Gordon, Bible. The latter will combine his instruction at Miss Fine's with duties as newly appointed minister of the Chapel at Princeton University.

POD Starts 32nd Year. Princeton Country Day School began its 32nd year on Wednesday with 156 boys enrolled, the largest number in its history. Among the effects of the record size was the moving of school assemblies out of the study hall and into the gym-auditorium for the first time. The school was redecorated over the summer.

Headmaster Henry B. Ross reported one new addition to the faculty, Wesley McCaughan, Jr., of Wilton Street. Mr. McCaughan, who has taught at Allentown High School and Lawrence Junior High, will give remedial instruction to boys in all forms and teach mathematics in the first form.

Enrollment Peak At Hun. Not surprisingly, the Hun School, like many another Princeton educational facility, will open for the 1955-56 academic year with an all-time record enrollment. Headmaster Paul Chesebro said he anticipated a registration of approximately 110 on September 20, the day before school starts. Last year, Hun enrolled between 85 and 90 students.

To meet the demands of teaching this enlarged group of prep school boys, Hun will add three new faculty members, bringing its staff to a total of 13. Also, John Kaufmann, a graduate of Princeton University's Class of 1945, will return to the school as alumni secretary in charge of publications.

Additions to the Hun faculty will include John Perkins, a graduate of Princeton University's Class of 1953 and shortstop on the Tigers' baseball team, who will teach German and take charge of the intramural sports program; Joseph P. Donohue, a 1940 alumnus of West Point and former graduate student at Columbia Teachers College, who will leave an assistant professorship at West Point to instruct mathematics at Hut; and William Holton, long-time associate professor at Notre Dame, who will teach math and science.

Mrs. Chapin's Opens School. Studies will start next Wednesday at Mrs. Chapin's School, with an enrollment of 80 pupils. It was announced this week by Mrs. Elizabeth Travers, headmistress. Classes will run from the pre-kindergarten level through ninth grade and the school's emphasis, as usual, will be on small academic groups and instruction in the fundamentals of reading and arithmetic.

Mrs. Travers also announced the following staff additions: Miss Faith Emery, a graduate of Rollins College, who will teach the intermediate group; Mrs. Anne Torney, a graduate of Hollins College, who will teach in the lower school; Mrs. Elizabeth Olson, winner of the Princeton Garden Club scholarship for elementary school science teachers this summer, who will direct the lower school reading and readiness program; Mrs. Jacques Arout, a graduate of Smith College, will teach French and Latin; and Mrs. Jane Alexander, who will serve as school secretary.

Township Adds Class. The Township's board of education voted at its monthly meeting to create still another first grade, reflecting record enrollment and the need for a low teacher-pupil ratio. A teacher is now being selected and the grade will be formed by October 1.

Enrollment at Valley Road School is now 841, with another 89 pupils attending the Stony Brook kindergarten. The total enrollment of 928 compares with 839 a year ago in September, but the latter figure was increased by 50 as the year progressed and the pattern of mid-year growth is expected to continue. The new record enrollment is within five pupils of the board's projected figure.

An additional kindergarten room is being created at Stony Brook. At Valley Road, three classrooms built into the playroom are being used on a temporary basis until the Littlebrook School is finished.

PTA Goal is $700. A two-week house-to-house drive for magazine subscriptions and renewals, to be conducted by the Princeton High School Parent-Teachers Association in support of its annual scholarship program, will get under way Monday. Goal of the concentrated campaign, which will enable four PHS seniors to further their educations next year, is $700.

This year, the PTA exceeded its goal by $300 and also collected extra funds during its dues drive, so three additional scholarships were awarded to 1955 graduates. Winners from the most recent PHS class were Ruth Ann Karch.

Leonard Andrews, Blanche Thomas, Philip Rodefelf, Joan Updike, Maaja Harms and George Toole.

Rummage Sale Set. The Parent-Teacher Association of the Borough Elementary Schools will conduct a rummage sale next Thursday and Friday at the Nassau Street School. Hours for the sale will be from 9 to 4:30 on both days.

Prior to the sale, used clothing, costumes, gym suits, rubber boots, ice skates and anything useful to school-aged children will be received in the school gymnasium on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Mrs. J. H. Platten Jr. and Mrs. Karl D. Pettit, Jr. will serve as chairmen for the sale.

A Helping Hand. Princeton's volunteer First Aid Unit has launched its annual appeal for funds to support its life-saving and pain-relieving work throughout the community for another 12 months.

The unit's ambulance and volunteer members have sped to the aid of the stricken 556 times in the past year, contributing 1,395 man-hours and travelling 6,725 miles. In addition to its service to Princeton and the surrounding area, the unit has answered 73 appeals from out of town.

Testifying to the work of the unit are letters of thanks from those helped. One will report that speed in reaching the hospital "permitted the operation which saved an amputation". From Borough Mayor P. MacKay Sturges has come a letter of commendation saying in part:

"It gives me great pleasure to commend the work of Princeton Engine Company No. 1 First Aid Unit for its outstanding contribution to the Princeton Community during the past year. Many instances are well known because of the publicity given, but countless others are known only to the persons or families directly involved. In all cases competent service was cheerfully rendered at no direct cost to the individuals involved.

"I feel strongly that the First Aid Unit has become an essential part of the services available to the Community and that it deserves the financial support of all citizens," Mr. Sturges writes.

Heading the fund drive committee again this year is Leonard F. Kraus. Other members of the committee are Raymond E. Rodweller, Bernard Glover, Edward T. Swinnerton, Leo McCloskey and John P. Golden.

Open Players' Meeting. The Princeton Community Players will stage an open meeting next Thursday, September 22, at 8:30 to welcome all persons interested in acting, directing, staging, costuming, and all the other activities of the community theatre. The meeting will be held at the Players' home, at Avalon, 59 Bayard Lane.

Members will present plans for fall and winter production. There will be brief entertainment, refreshments, and an opportunity for interested persons to join under one of several membership plans. Mrs. Robert W. Wood Jr. (tel. 3841-J) is membership chairman.

Teenager Apparent Suicide. State Police of the Princeton barracks this week labeled the death of 15-year-old John A. Dafter "an apparent suicide" after investigating the youth's hanging in nearby Montgomery Township. A relative, Anthony Horton, found the boy hanging from a rafter in the barn on his family's farm last Saturday.

The teenager's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Dafter, who told investigators their son was not known to be despondent, were away at the time of the tragic incident, but instigated an immediate search upon reaching home and not finding him there. Calling a broken neck the cause of death, the police said they could find no indications whatsoever of foul play.

Flood Victims Aided. Two appealing stories concerning Princeton youngsters who went out on their own to raise funds to help victims of the recent hurricane-provoked floods were reported this week by the local Red Cross

Chapter. One involved a dozen children, ages 6 to 10, who sold 65 tickets, staged a successful neighborhood play and turned over $13.33 to the Red Cross while the other involved four young Cuyler Road residents who sent the chapter proceeds from a used newspaper and magazine sale they conducted.

The youngsters who thought up and carried out the play idea, explaining they were "very sorry to hear that the hurricane destroyed many houses," included Debby Schimmel, Susan Honore, Nancy Shaw, Linda Baruch, Marjie Baruch, Susan Stone, Raymond Stone, Barbara Thein, Douglas Hoffman, Nancy Sussman, Betsy Foose and Kathy Jenes. Those who developed spontaneously the sale idea were David Sheinberg, 6; David Russinoff, 7; Jimmy Casserly, 3; and Neal Solomon, 4.

"Armor Day" for Guard. This Sunday has been designated as "Armor Day" for the 75 officers and enlisted men of Princeton's Company B, and the local National Guard unit will mark the occasion with a dance Saturday evening and a full dress military review on Sunday afternoon.

The dance, third in a series, will be held at the River Road armory starting at 9 p. m. Tommy Everett's seven-piece orchestra will provide music and entertainment. Members of the committee are Capt. Stanley L. Donald, company commander; Lieut. Joseph Barnacz, 2d Lt. Hugh P. Rogers, SFC James L. Briner 3rd, SFC Henry Freda, SFC Michael Lisi, SFC William Toole, Sgt. Constant Gianacaci, Sgt. Samuel E. Nini, and Sgt. Albert Perone.

The review, in which Company B will participate along with 300 other members of the 253rd Tank Battalion, the parent unit, is scheduled for 3 p. m. Sunday at the Lawrenceville Armory.

The laminated place mats that have pleased so many Town Shop customers, appear this fall with new designs. One has three large leaves arranged on the left, with a spattering of gold dots over the mat's surface.

A similar one has a field of tiny daisies diagonally across the mat with a white thread looped freely through the field. A third mat shows a bunch of field grasses arranged with the gold dots. There is an oval mat, too, with brighter green leaves.

To match these mats, Town Shop offers a small desk scrap basket shaped like a drum with one-inch brass bands at top and bottom, and a sea scene in between, even to minute sea-horses and starfish.

Our private radar led us to the Princeton Music Shop, 16 Nassau, the other day, and we spent a hypnotic half hour watching Zenith's new Flash-matic television set.
You sit across the room from this set and, armed with an ordinary flashlight which Zenith has thoughtfully shaped like a stubby revolver, you operate the TV controls by light beam.
Flash to the upper right slot for even numbered channels, to the upper left slot for odd numbered ones. Turn off the sound by pin-pointing the lower right slot, and turn the darned thing off all together at the lower left.
We leave with you a picture of family life with the new Zenith. A squabble over who gets to watch what will become a fight to the finish—with victory going to the freshest battery. And four eager little experimenting scientists, each focusing simultaneously on a different corner, will drive Zenith to screaming schizophrenia in two seconds.

Rain... will have little effect on the wearer of Princeton Clothing's duffer, a raincoat in the English style, short, double-breasted, with toggle closing and front yoke. It comes in light tan with brown toggles for $25, and is lined with Black Watch.

At the same store, 17 Witherspoon, there is a full length coat in the same fabric, but with more of the cloak and dagger about it. It hangs straight and beltless with fly front closing and a rayon lining that's plain half way, and red plaid from the waist down. It's $18.50.

A Byrd cloth hat for rain matches both these coats. Perhaps the most unique rain-hat in the store, however, is an oilskin snap-brim model that will squash into a man's pocket as rainy day insurance. It's grey or tan, $3.50, and won't go out of shape in the wet.

To keep warm as well as dry, Princeton Clothing has crewneck sweaters that are 80% wool, 20% nylon for $6.95. There are greens and tans, a heather grey, and a bright golden yellow.

Charcoal brown, pet of the season, appears in a pair of slacks that are also called "lamp-black brown." They are cut with a plain front, back strap, and $12.95 price tag. The faint rustiness in the black goes well with a tweed jacket done in black and russet houndstooth. Jackets from $35 in Harris tweed and Shetland. There are suits in Harris, too, with $47.50 marked on a good herringbone.

A new color called burnt olive looks like olive drab to us.

A burnt olive suit has plain front, strapped back, and a jacket with lapped seams and a hook vent. (This means it goes across at a sharp right angle instead of straight up).

Princeton Clothing likes After Six new Tux in midnight blue or black, made of tropical worsted with plain front pants, and a jacket that has flapped pockets, back vent, and shawl collar. The Tux is priced at $59.50.

Puritan makes a gingham sports shirt with long sleeves in such popular clan plaids as MacLennan, Royal Stuart and Black Watch. Princeton Clothing offers it for $4.95. There are also sports shirts with small Paisley patterns: russet on black or green, blue on tomato red, and so on.

New narrow-brim, center-crease hats are ready—$7.50 for models by Caxton that feature a low crown and a 2½ inch brim. A charcoal Tyrolean makes any man a yodler—at $7.50, feather and all.

Her mommy and daddy are Princeton Fuel Oil Company boosters. They talk about our service how they like the drivers of our big orange colored trucks... how helpful our service men are. WHAT, WHERE AND WHEN? Graduate College student David Harrison and his wife, Ann, dejectedly weigh the vexations involved in apartment-hunting in Princeton. They symbolize an unhappy group of hopeful students and educators who are striving this week, exacting to find living accommodations without any trouble. Instead, they are finding the situation a mad scramble—a real rental dilemma. To add to their personal woes, the Harrisons were burdened with all their belongings after four months of marriage—in and on a borrowed station wagon. They studied the classified section of Town Topics long and hard, and, luckily, located a place from the ads after this picture was taken. They were among a limited number managing to find housing within peddling distances of their occupants. For more details on a distressing Princeton problem, see Topics of the Town. (Alan Richards Photo)

TOPICS OF THE TOWN

Housing Shortage Acute. One of Princeton's most acute extension problems—the rental dilemma of 1955—came into discouragingly distinct focus this week as the full fall complement of students and educators hit town, many of them still in search of a roof to put over their heads. Some observers called it "a serious situation"—probably the worst rent situation here since World War II. The problem was a difficult one to nail down and evaluate. No one seemed to know for certain how many individuals or families remained "out in the cold," or how many were inadequately, inconveniently or unhappily housed. It was the general consensus, however, that both categories were well-filled.

In the center of the pressure-saturated dilemma, TOWN TOPICS continued to serve as a telltale barometer. Its classified advertising section indicated the severity of the present rental situation, just as it signaled the short-lived easing of the same situation last winter.

True, there were still rental listings in TOWN TOPICS. But there were also urgent ads inserted by persons seeking housing and, more significantly, there were few openings to meet even the basic requirements of countless families anxious to make Princeton their home.

What has caused the dilemma? The answer appeared as simple as the problem itself was complex: Expanding Princeton, ever a popular place to live, had concentrated on building and renovating houses for sale while the supply of rental units had been neglected and not increased with the growing demand.

Concisely, this is the serious situation to be studied and resolved:

(1) Princeton, primarily an education center, required and would continue to require reasonably-priced rental units for its comparatively low-salaried educators and low-income students. Obviously, these people were not in the market for high-priced Princeton homes and, anyhow, many of them logically had to be labeled "transients."

(2) New and developing Princeton enterprises, such as the scientific research companies, were in need of rentals for many incoming employees. Naturally, these engineers and skilled workers arrived in a better position to pay more for accommodations. And, quite humanly, landlords countered with less space for more money. Exploitation was the rule rather than the exception.

(3) The current all-time high of some 1,000 Princeton commuters boarding trains daily for jobs elsewhere indicated that numerous families were moving here just because "it's a good place to live." This group, coupled with families migrating to man the newly created jobs of a fast-growing area, increased rent pressures.

The Sky's the Limit. Hardest hit by Princeton's "new look" in rent fees were the education-associated hopefuls, who came to town this week in inundation and in disbelief. If they found anything at all in the Borough or Township, they usually found that single rooms, priced at $9 or $10 a week last year, were renting for $12 to $14 now. They learned all-too-quickly that small apartments, once in the $50 a month bracket, were going—and going fast—for $75 to $100. Houses were near-impossible to uncover for less than $125 monthly and, in many instances, the sky was the limit.

BIG SIX IN PHS GRID PLANS: Joe Jingoli (right), starting his 10th year as head football coach at Princeton High School, stops practice session long enough to tell his only lettermen from 1954 team that he expects them to lead the way during season. The hefty but inexperienced Little Tigers warm for their eight-game campaign Saturday with an informal scrimmage here, against a reportedly "loaded" Freshell eleven. Jingoli's holdover P-winners, assured of starting assignments in the Leonardo game September 24, are (left to right) Lee Ammermann, 6-foot, 4-inch end; Martin Caples, rock-ribbed tackle; John Smith, small but powerful center; Marv Trotman, high-cervical triple-threat tailback; and Captain Frank Di Meglio, 6-foot, 2-inch, 200-pound tackle.

Sports in Princeton

Report From Blairtown. "Essentially quite satisfactory." That's the progress report from Blairtown, where the Princeton football team is concluding a fortnight's practice of two-day drills before coming to the campus this weekend. The weather has been far better than in the last two summers, when extended heat waves made not only scrimmaging but sleeping uncomfortable, and the status of the squad in experience gained is about what the coaching staff had hoped for to date.

Two basic problems have developed, however. One is the inability to switch Mike Stewart from end to guard, a plan that has now been indefinitely postponed because of injuries among the ends. The most serious development is a shoulder dislocation suffered by Don MacElwee, 1957 freshman captain, who will be lost for almost a month.

Stewart and Joe Grotto, the latter rounded out for a starting assignment at right end, both missed several days of practice this week because of leg bruises sustained in last Saturday's intra-squad scrimmage. So did Jim Valaska, a 6-3, 190-lb. sophomore, leaving end coach Cappy Cannon with a definitely depleted squad.

A serious shortage has also developed at the vital quarterback position. Letterman John Watson is ineligible for the first month, and John Futehy, who saw considerable action as a sophomore, has withdrawn from the sport to concentrate on his studies.

That leaves senior Frank Cosentino as the only member of the squad with any varsity experience at signal calling. He will share the duties with John Sapoch, last year's freshman captain.

Manpower Shortage. In sharp contrast to teams like Cornell and Yale, Princeton continues short of manpower and will be dangerously thin at a number of key positions throughout the season. These will be primarily center, quarterback and tailback.

Various switches are likely before the season's opener with Rutgers next Saturday, September 24, in Palmer Stadium. However, barring further injury to key players, it is entirely conceivable that the Tigers could field this starting team against the Scarlet:

Of these 11 men, only one (210-lb. Casciola) is a sophomore. Against Rutgers a year ago, only two sophomores (Sharp at guard

Benefit Game Sunday

A softball game benefiting the Billie D. Ellis Fund will be played Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the Marquand Park diamond, Stockton Street. Participants will be the Princeton All-Stars and Romeo and Juliet of Trenton.

The latter group, named first for a cafe and only remotely associated with Shakespeare, not only initiated plans for the game but has pledged $25 to the fund for the late Township patrolman. Joe Cosentino is captain and personnel of the team includes two members of the Trenton Police Department. A collection will be taken during the game for the Ellis fund.

The Princeton All-Stars line-up: Bob Ceraso, c; Black McCreedy, p; Bucky Cupples, 1b; George Sella, 2b; George Sicile, 3b; Jack Petrone, ss; Jake Bartolino, if; Tim Harris, cf; Doug Watson or Tom Collins, rf. The squad will also include Sam Lisi, Ed Jeffries and Dick Anderson.

and Futehy (at quarterback) started, and Futehy was only in there because Cosentino had a back injury and could not play. It has long been a Caldwell policy to go with experience over a first-year player on the varsity; hence Casciola, if he starts, will give indications of having considerable promise.

There are four other sophomores in the tentative reserve eleven, the players most likely to go into action when substitutes are needed. The quartet consists of Dave Grubb and Art Benis, promising running guards; Paul Nyström, a center who has shown well at Blairtown; and Sapoch, whose blocking abilities are figured to pave the way for considerable action for him at quarterback.

team may shape up in this fashion: Ben Spinelli and Joe DiRenzo, both lettermen at ends; Dick Moore, also a letter-winner, and Bob Aldrich, tackles; Benis and Grubb, guards; Nystrom, center; Bill Danforth, wingback; Sapoch, quarterback; Jack Kraus, fullback; and Sid Pinch, tailback.

Depending on the progress of the game, other reserves may see action. In last year's thin 10-8 victory, however, only 26 players were used, and depending on the degree to which its big sophomore crop shows ability in its first varsity outing, Rutgers figures to be a good deal better than it was last fall.

Coach Harvey Harman figures that the team he will field this season will be the best to represent the New Brunswick institution in seven years. His freshman outfit was unbeaten last fall; he has a good deal of veteran material in the line; and the team has both speed and size.

Rutgers obviously should improve steadily as the campaign wears on. To beat the Scarlet, Princeton will have to produce a considerably better brand of football than it did in barely edging mediocre Rutgers teams 10-8 a year ago and 9-7 in 1953.

Engine Co. No. 1 Wins. The "Firemen's World Series" went to Princeton Engine Co. No. 1 last week with a 1-0 victory over Belle Mead in a tense contest waged at Marquand Park. The only hit the victors made, a single by Jim Wheeler, drove in the game's lone run in the last of the sixth.

Red Bergen of Belle Mead was almost invincible in the box, striking out 10 and throwing a no-hitter for five innings. In the sixth, however, he walked Van Skillman, Bucky Cupples and Jack Petrone with two out. Wheeler's single followed.

Tom Collins was the winning pitcher, limiting the losers to two hits. Sam Lisi caught. Trophies to the Firemen's League, which played weekly in two sections during the summer, were contributed by the Nassau Oil Co., Don Selbie's Sporting Goods Store in Hopewell and Jim Ajamian of Blawenburgh.

Softball Nears Climax. Playoffs in the Eagles Community Softball League will start shortly, with the schedule to be determined on a basis of results of this week's play. The Shaughnessy system will be followed, with the first and fourth place teams opposing each other and the second and third place entries squaring off. Because of the lateness of the season, the semi-finals and the finals will all be on a best of three basis.

Nassau Social Club, leader throughout the season, went into the week with a 17-2 mark, needing only one triumph to be assured of a first-place finish. The Sunbeams were second with 15-4, followed by the Eagles, 13-6, and Artistic Clippers, 10-9. Trophies for the regular-season winner and the victor in the playoffs will be awarded by the Eagles.

The Social Club topped the Clippers, 2-1, in a tight duel last week that saw Huck McCreedy rack up his 16th triumph this season against two defeats. Both of the victors' runs off Doug Waston, who tossed a four hitter, were unearned.

McCreedy allowed only three hits in nailing down the triumph. A double by Tom Collins and a single by Ed Jeffries produced the Clippers' lone score.

A 7-3 victory over Frazee's kept the Sunbeams high in the race as Harry Kahny's pitching continued to do the trick. Meanwhile, the Eagles made sure of at least a third-place finish with two victories, a 7-6 triumph over the Jokers and a forfeit from RCA. Bud Cavanaugh was the winning pitcher against the Jokers.

Hun to Start Practice. Football candidates for the Hun School varsity, under the coaching tutelage of Zig Emery, will take to the gridiron before this week is over for several days of practice drills in advance of the school's official opening next Wednesday. When they get there, they will meet three new staff members, named to assist Emery with his coaching duties.

Picked as assistant mentors for the 1955 Hun season were Lt. John Krobeck, former Army football star; Jack Martin, onetime Princeton and Navy grid standout; and Barton Leach, Penn's versatile young athlete who was voted the Ivy League's most valuable basketball player last winter. The latter will serve as Hun's head basketball coach after the football season.

The Red and Black gridders will open their seven-game campaign October 3 against Tower Hill on the opposition's field. Other games will include Bryn, Athyn, October 14; Bayley Ellard (away), October 22; George School (away), October 29; Solebury School (away), November 4; Morristown, November 11; and Delbarton (away), November 19. Last year, Hun won two games and lost four.

there were more people hunting for four walls to call their own and a place to hang their hats. Often, they were required to sign a year's lease, meaning that many would lose three or four months' rent money when they left town at the close of the academic year. If transportation and schedule permitted (and they didn't in many cases), some educators and students sought quarters in nearby communities outside of Princeton—but, here again, they discovered landlords taking advantage of the tenants' tribulations.

Allan W. Stephens, in charge of Princeton University's housing office, and James Thorpe, housing troubleshooter for the Graduate College, concurred that the rental problem presented an arduous task for them this fall. Mr. Stephens pointed out that, so far, there are fewer vacancies than usual in the Harrison Street project and, as luck would have it, more veterans than usual returning (the full influx from Korea). He said almost all veteran students would be absorbed by the project, but he was concerned with the fate of five veteran faculty members and 30 married, non-veteran graduate students.

Mr. Thorpe elaborated on the graduate students' situation. In addition to the needs of couples and families, he said about 35 single men required accommodations. The increased need for singles by the Radio Corporation of America and Educational Testing Service cut down markedly on the "floating supply" of rentals for graduate students, he stressed.

Students at Westminster Choir College have been hard-pressed to locate rooms or apartments near the school, according to Comptroller James Richmond. Some 70-plus of them have looked for singles in private residences, many forced to go out of Princeton.—Continued on Page 15

"Trap" through this Saturday evening, the Bucks County Playhouse will make another bid to regain full momentum by offering the world premiere of "The Wayward Kiss" this coming Monday.

The week's run of the new comedy by Irving Phillips will find Monica Lovett starred as Delight, giver of the wayward kiss, and Frederic Tozere and Felix Deepbank (whose most recent Broadway show was "The Deep Blue Sea," no less) as her pursuers. Miss Lovett has been touring this summer with Donald Cook in "Champagne Complex," while Mr. Tozere won favorable notice a year ago at the New Hope barn in "Dame Nature."

The show is planned for late fall production in New York and is the last of four new plays to be shown this season at Bucks County. Robert Caldwell will return to direct and the multiple boudoir and drawing room set of pre-Civil War days in New England will be executed by W. Broderick Hackett.

The barn theatre is still suffering from bridge troubles. Princetonians making the trip to New Hope are advised to add the extra seven miles needed to go by way of Stockton, or to cross at Trenton and go up the Pennsylvania side of the river.

MUSIC CIRCUS

"Kismet" appears to be booming along on its way to a fine four-week run at the Music Circus in Lambertville. It's due to continue through October 2.

One of the largest casts ever assembled for the Music Circus is presenting the musical spectacle. More than 30 performing roles have been filled, in addition to the corps de ballet and choral group. Three members of the Broadway company, Niele Adams, Ronnie Field and Truman Gaige, are appearing in the cast.

THE PLAYHOUSE

You're Never Too Young (Sept. 14-17) offers typical Martin & Lewis material. The laughs are certainly there for M & L fans, but 13 pictures in a row of this type may be pressing a bit. Jerry is pursued by a bandit-murderer and hides himself in a girls school. Dean plays it straight as usual and sings a few songs. Diana Lynn and Nina Foch provide romantic interest. A standard but funny "chase" winds things up.

Female on the Beach (Sept. 18-20) finds Joan Crawford in another grande dame portrayal of a passionate woman. She's so poor (and so is the film) that you might find it amusing. The show is supposed to be seething as Miss Crawford gets entangled with beach gigolo Jeff Chandler. Jan Sterling is also involved in the trashy goings on, and murder is included on the program.

The Private War of Major Benson (Sept. 21-24) rates a real hand for a barrelful of laughter stemming from a surprise direction. Charlton Heston plays a stiff army disciplinarian who gets stuck with the job of handling ROTC pupils at a boys' military school. Julie Adams, Tim Hovey and William Demarest are also featured. Color.

THE GARDEN

The Purple Mask (Sept. 15-17) offers plenty of swordplay and the old swashbuckle as a French dandy rescues aristocrats from Napoleon's guillotine. The rather juvenile heroics are handled by Tony Curtis. Colleen Miller, Gene Barry and Dan O'Herlihy are also featured. Elaborate production in CinemaScope and color.

Doctor in the House. (Sept. 19-22) was the top British money-maker last year and presents a superb cast in an amusing and occasionally side-splitting comedy of medical students at St. Swin's hospital. Their troubles with money, exams, nurses and patients are depicted by Kirk Bogarde, Muriel Pavlov, Kenneth More, Donald Sinden and others.

Francis in the Navy (Sept. 23-24) is strictly for those who haven't experienced or haven't seen through the thin idea of a talking mule and comical friend (Donald O'Connor). The locale is shifted seaboard this time, but there's nothing much else that's different.

ton to find the right price. Two instructors were still seeking a room to house them and their two grand pianos, he added.

Other Woes Voiced. "They're either long gone or you wouldn't live in them anyhow" was the comment from Minot C. Morgan Jr., general manager of the Institute for Advanced Study, where 100 bachelors and couples—educational "transients"—need rental space each year. He said his office will have accommodations for everybody, but many will be none-too-happily situated. "It's quite a bit worse this year," he observed.

Dr. James K. Quay, housing coordinator for the Princeton Theological Seminary, said his office found rental space for 50 couples, but 75 others were obliged to shift for themselves. Some were successful in obtaining preaching assignments, with small incomes, while others are still hunting.

"A very acute and very difficult situation" was the way Miss Shirley Davis, headmistress at Miss Pine's School, summed up the rental dilemma. She commented that young teachers were "over the barrel" in Princeton because they have to be here, so consequently must pay the prevailing high prices for lodging. "Sometimes, the rentals aren't very suitable and usually they are out of line price-wise," she added.

At RCA, where a continuing need for rentals is apparent, Charles A. Hurford, personnel director, said his office has been experiencing "its greatest difficulty in placing research engineers with families of several children. Pointing out that the men are individuals with good educations who like the reputations of Princeton's schools, Mr. Hurford said RCA employees coming from the west and mid-west definitely prefer living in Princeton. "But we are finding it difficult to meet their needs here," he reported.

A similar report came from those in charge of housing at ETS. "It's still a tough grid," they said, "and, though our people eventually find what they want, it's not easy." They stressed that ETS assigns its new workers to come to Princeton alone at first, and then bring their families along after they are settled.

At least two local companies informed Town Topics they have employees commuting from as far away as Levittown, Pa. One of them reported that car pools bring a dozen persons to work from that community.

New Business Coming Here. The continuation of a Princeton trend—the establishment of research centers in this area—was noted this week with the announcement that Roger Williams Technical & Economics Services Inc. will construct new executive offices near Princeton Junction. A New York City organization devoted to market research for the chemical industry, the company has acquired five acres of land next to a tract purchased recently by the First National Bank.

Roger Williams Jr., company president, said the Princeton area was chosen as the firm's new home because of its easy access to New York City, Philadelphia and Washington, its excellent University Library facilities, its central location with respect to many of the chemical processing industries, which the company serves, and Princeton's growing status as a research center. The executive offices will be housed in a modern, two-story structure designed to provide comfortable working space for a staff of 20.

Most of Mr. Williams' staff of technical and secretarial personnel will move to the Princeton area on completion of the building. The president, however, will maintain his present home in Buckingham Valley, Pa.

YWCA Appoints Pair. Two women well-trained in the field of social work and community service—Miss Irene Jeffress and Mrs. Glen E. Schrank—were named this week by the Princeton YWCA to direct its new Y-Teen program for 1955-56. Miss Jeffress will come directly from her hometown, Philadelphia, while Mrs. Schrank, from California, has been here since 1953.

A 1952 graduate of Penn State, Miss Jeffress has just returned from three years of work in Puerto Rico, where she taught the elementary grades of Methodist Mission School and worked with teenagers in recreational projects. Mrs. Schrank, who attended UCLA, was active in the USO during World War II and, since her arrival here, has been a leader of the Y-Teen group at Princeton High School and a member of the League of Women Voters and Princeton University's Junior Faculty Wives Club.

Big Year Ahead. The Princeton High School Canteen, which was organized only nine months ago and grew to a membership of over 550 high school students by the end of May, will hold its first dance of the new academic year September 24 at Bamberger's. Plans for this initial event and other developments were announced this week following a meeting of the Canteen Council. Council officers, selected last spring to run the Canteen this year, appointed the following committee chairmen to help them operate the teenage organization: Susan Coley and Dorothy Stalker, hosts and hostesses; Carol Anderson and Davis Young, publicity; Richard Sartor, program; Mason Reagan and Howard Calkin, equipment; Julia Sommerville and Pat Lipka, membership; Nancy Craven and Sandy Wayne, refreshments; and Robert Speedy and Dana Morgan, cleanup.

The officers' also announced that, following the kickoff dance at Bamberger's, weekly dances will be held each Saturday night at the Green Street YWCA building.—Continued on Page 17

News of the Churches

The Year 5716. This Friday at sundown, Princeton's Jews will begin the two-day observance of Rosh Hashanah, ushering in the New Year 5716—according to Jewish tradition, the 5716 year since the Creation. Joseph H. Gelberman, the first Rabbi to head a Princeton congregation, will open the New Year with services at the Jewish Center, 61 Eldon Avenue, at 7 p.m. on Friday.

Traditionally, Rosh Hashana begins with the blowing of the shofar—the ram's horn, but when the first day falls on the Sabbath, as it does this year, the shofar is not blown until the second day. These two holidays are days of introspection and prayer, repentance and charity. The shofar is an instrument of warning, and is blown as a reminder of duties to God and to mankind.

In Princeton, four members of the Center congregation will assist Rabbi Gelberman in the services. They are Mrs. A. R. Robinson, Dr. Myer Bernstein, Meyer Goldstein and Ernest Kaufman.

Lawrenceville Topics

Enter the Students. The familiar influx of Lawrenceville School students will be complete by Tuesday, when Headmaster Allan V. Heeley welcomes a capacity enrollment.

The start of activities at the large prep school will signalize the launching of many fall programs in the neighborhood. Not the least of fall items is voter registration. New residents and those who have changed their address must make note by September 29.

Township Hall will be ready to register new residents and those who have moved from 9 to 5 weekdays. Next Saturday, September 24, there will be special hours from 9 a.m. to noon. On the last four days of registration (September 26-27-28-29), the Township Clerk's office will be open from 7 to 9 in the evenings.

Garden Club Resumes. The Lawrenceville Garden Club opens its fall schedule Tuesday with a meeting at the homes of Mrs. C. B. Pratt, 22 Manning Lane, and Mrs. Katherine W. Simpson, 19 Manning Lane.

The meeting will start as usual at 2:30 p.m. Miss Margaret W. Johnson of 44 Green Avenue is chairman of publicity.

For Mr. Tilton, Monroe Avenue's William F. Tilton will be honored by his friends this Saturday at Jack Fowler's on Brunswick Pike. The affair will pay personal tribute to the man and his work as Lawrence tax collector for 33 years.

To be a tax collector and still earn a warm testimonial dinner is no small achievement for the genial man who retired in January. State Senator Malcolm Forbes is the scheduled principal speaker at the banquet, which starts at 6:30.

Mr. Tilton has been serving as a notary public and as a real estate and insurance salesman since his retirement. He's also had time to garden, do church work and watch sports on television, with baseball, his game as a youth, the favorite.

Mr. Tilton was born in Trenton April 14, 1884, and his family moved to Lawrenceville a year later, where he has lived since.

After he grew up and graduated from Rider College, he worked in real estate and was a farmer. In 1920-21 he worked in the Lawrence Township treasurer's office and on January 1, 1922, became the township tax collector, a post he held until this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Tilton have four married children and 11 grandchildren. The son and three daughters — Thomas Tilton, Mrs. Eleanor Poinsett, Mrs. Edith Up-

MAKE YOUR HOME MORE LIVABLE WITH BURNHAM Cast-Iron BASERS!

The cozy, clean, draft-free warmth from BASE-RAY Radiant Baseboards is the easiest floor-to-ceiling heat known. And solid, dent-proof cast-iron construction gives true radiant heat plus lifetime service. *U.S. Pat. Off.

ADVANTAGES OVER STEEL OR COPPER BASEBOARD:

1. With BURNHAM Basers's Cast Iron you get radiant heat—with copper or steel units you get warm air.
2. Cast-Iron BURNHAM Basers's Radiant Heat means warm floors and walls—only 25 to 37° temperature difference between floor and ceiling. Because warm air rises, units primarily heating the air cannot provide such even temperatures.
3. BURNHAM Basers is only 7" high, looks natural in your living room. Most copper and steel baseboard is 10" high and looks more artificial.
4. Cast-Iron BURNHAM Basers is sturdy, no fins to break off in later years.
5. Cast-Iron BURNHAM Basers is a bit more expensive than competitive steel or copper baseboards. But on the overall cost of your whole heating job this difference will be perhaps 2 to 3%.
6. Cast-Iron BURNHAM Basers will give you steady heat. Because copper heats and cools rapidly, copper baseboard will give you cycles of "Too Hot" and "Too Cool."

WHAT IS RADIANT HEAT?

Ever been out on a warm spring day? The radiant warmth of the sun's rays gives your body that comfortable feeling. Let the sun get behind a cloud and you are suddenly chilly. The temperature of the air hasn't changed, but you've lost the radiant heat of the sun. That's what you give up when you install a warm air system instead of a radiant hot water heating system. And cast iron Basers provides a maximum of radiant heat. The warm surfaces of the room give off rays which warm your body like the sun.

TO KEEP YOUR FUEL BILL DOWN

Scientific sizing of your boiler radiators and piping is available to you through the engineering service we furnish to your dealer!
